Our Student Counselling Vertical- Raizing Edu aims to help students become self-aware and reach their highest potential while dealing with their Academic related queries. The main objective is not only to help the students with their enrollment and admission related queries but also to extend a helping hand to all the students to overcome dilemmas in making important decisions and lack of self-assurance or lack of confidence while adapting to a new environment. Through our well tailored counselling services, we offer students to come up with their problems without any doubts or repercussions.

Our main aim is to make them understand the relevant and detailed understanding about admission procedures and documentation which includes the application process, selection of courses, meeting application deadlines, recruitment events for our Exclusive Universities in Croatia and Georgia to the potential students and their guardians. Our Counselor plays a significant role in creating a policy that helps students get admission in the right University, which indeed leads to a higher education rate and a better public image for the University and our company profile.

STUDENT COUNSELING

Every student dreaming to study abroad and make a glorious future has different requirements to complete the process. Based on their individual needs, our dedicated student counselling team assists them in becoming aware of every aspect of studying abroad such as their interests, evaluating previous studies as well as work experience, to independently make study and career choices in the future. The student counsellor also assists the student to enhance their ability to independently collect and evaluate information regarding the study and career questions so that they can make well-informed decisions regarding the possibilities of studying at a university, pursuing a professional course as well as exploring options in the job market.

RECRUITMENT OF STUDENTS FOR COLLEGES

Student recruitment has never been an easy task for big institutions. However, with dominating digitalization, recruitment strategies have also been affected adversely. It has made the scenario more complicated. The institutions have to rely on one or another sort of resource for recruiting their prospective students. But we at Raizing Edu believe that the procedure of student recruitment does not have to be complicated or out of the reach of institutions.

The recruitment of students for college includes:

1. Analyzing and defining the academic requirements
2. Attracting students via high-level marketing and communication
3. Operating closely with marketing, accounting and coordination departments to grab students' attention
4. Screening and selection of the right candidates
5. Helping the selected students with visa application
6. Looking after final application and enrollment program
7. Introduction and settlement of new students into the college
8. Following up with the applicants whenever required
9. Entrance Test/Interview for the applied college
10. IELTS/TOEFL qualification

However, the candidate has to qualify for NEET to appear for the screening process. Since the procedure is long, it's difficult to keep a track of it for the institutions, and that's why a recruitment firm has a crucial role to play. We at Raizing Edu do it for them, by helping find well-qualified students for their education programs, to maintain their revenue as well as prestige.

Moreover, besides the traditional structure, we are adopting advancements in the education system. We keep collaborating and looking after new institutions

MY CAREER EXPERT

Each day we encounter various ads, posts, and links about different types of job roles, but how to decide which one suits us? Before selecting a career it's advisable to start taking an inventory of the things that excites us from within. There is no shortcut in life, but if we play smart we reduce the expected time to attain the desired output.

Bygone is the time when people stumbled into a job after college, and take whatever they get. The impact of the traditional approach to job analysis and introspection is now proved void as the scope is limited. These ordinary approaches fail to capture the important factors that drive the current demand for the new world, of the service sector. Hence with the transforming world we need an exceptionally outstanding method to define the dream job blueprint this new reality, our My Career Expert tests are designed to help aspirants to meet the profession that matches their passion. A lot of us are reluctant to go to a career counsellor when it comes to choosing the right career with the fear of being judged by society. That's understandable, it's just human equation, what makes us real. You don't have to be physically present in front of some psychiatrist wearing thick glasses, the my Career Expert test would take care of it.

With 50 years of dedicated and perseverant research and surveys, our psychiatrists have come up with advanced methods, and have thus designed the test keeping intact the industry demand. Our tests are designed to make it fun rather than tedious for the test takers, however, during the test the candidate is kept under close observation. Various parameters are evaluated that revolve around the candidate's cerebrum. Almost all the sectors are been touched and studied diligently. The test helps individuals to gain clarity on their field of interest via various rounds of scrutiny. Their likes-dislikes, and expectations are aligned together to analyze the inclination of the candidate. Thereafter the data is used to define the relevant career through predictive analysis and artificial intelligence.

My Career expert does a SWOT analysis to figure out the candidate's current strengths, weaknesses, threats to their goals and opportunities they can reach out and grab if they put their mind to it. Through tactical and scientifically driven methods the skills are identified and are wired with the most suitable career option you will never regret.

Having said that, every job requires a unique set of skills, certain features that are common in each job role such as communication, self-management, self-belief, teamwork, and problem solving, but some profiles need it on an urgent basis while others are lenient. Hence these parameters along with the others are categorized in the form of case studies and are pinpointed spectacularly in the reports.

Last but not the least, it's always important to know a little about a lot. There are alternative career options that could be a good match that you might have not thought of yet!
